

Seeking a Talented and Energetic
Vice President for Clinical Skills Testing

The National Board of Osteopathic Medical Examiners (NBOME) – the organization which created and administers COMLEX-USA, the licensure examinations for osteopathic physicians in the United States – is offering a unique and challenging opportunity for a qualified, innovative and motivated osteopathic physician to oversee all aspects of the COMLEX-USA Level 2-Performance Evaluation (clinical skills examination).

The Vice President for Clinical Skills Testing serves as leader within the NBOME and its leadership team, and directs all activities at the National Center for Clinical Skills Testing (NCCST) located 20 minutes from downtown Philadelphia in Conshohocken, PA. The position is based in Philadelphia and is full-time.

Qualified candidates must have a D.O. degree with a minimum of 3 to 5 years of experience in clinical skills assessment. Experience in management, research and peer-reviewed publications, and strong communication and oral presentation skills strongly desired. Possession of an advanced degree such as M.Ed., Ed.D., or Ph.D. is preferred.

The current Vice President for Clinical Skills Testing, Erik Langenau, D.O., is taking on new challenges with the NBOME as the organization's first Vice President for Continuous Professional Development & Innovations.

Excellent Salary, benefit package, and incentives are commensurate with skill and experience.

Qualified candidates should e-mail curriculum vitae and a letter of interest to John R. Gimpel, D.O., M.Ed., at jgimpel@nbome.org; and/or mail to John R. Gimpel, D.O., M.Ed., FAAFP, President and CEO, National Board of Osteopathic Medical Examiners, Executive Offices, 101 W. Elm Street, Suite 150, Conshohocken, PA 19428.
